EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION

The simplicity of the manner of the Lord's presence is part of His gift to us. He could overwhelm us with power. He could awe us with spectacle. He could dazzle us. But He does not. Instead, He waits, He rests, He abides. He presents Himself to us in the most ordinary means and beckons us to become still and silent ourselves; to wait and rest and abide with Him.

His patience is what is happening. It is His stability, His constancy, His fidelity to being with us that we encounter in the Blessed Sacrament. Even our ordinary senses can perceive this, as our spiritual senses stretch to perceive that which is before us, Him who is Lord and God.

Eucharistic Adoration calls for a revolution in perspective. Rather than worrying so much about how to "see" the Lord or "do" something to make this prayer count, we need to realize He calls us to let ourselves be seen, and then let Him do unto us.

He is there, but do we let ourselves be there with Him? Being there with Him is about more than merely happening to be in the same room. It means working to make ourselves present to Him, as He is present to us.
